

Student Answer Sheet

Subject: Artificial Intelligence

Definition:

Artificial Intelligence is when computers are made to think like humans. It can learn and make decisions. AI is used in many applications today.

Body:

There are different types of AI. Machine Learning is one type where the computer learns from data. Deep learning is another type. NLP is for language. AI is used in hospitals and banks. There are also self-driving cars that use AI.

Conclusion:

AI is important and has many uses. It also has some problems like ethical issues. We need to be careful when using AI.